Corporate Wellness Programme

Wellness and health are paramount for employees' wellbeing and productivity. "Wellness" scientifically means health or the freedom from disease. Wellness therefore, is not only absence from disease but also a much desired state of health!

In this era of suffocating stress, demanding deadlines, and crazy networking, is wellness a far-fetched dream? No, not entirely! Let the experts show you how you can do it!

IMU's Corporate Wellness Programme offers you a comprehensive and wholesome approach to wellness of both body and mind by specialists in their respective fields.

PROGRAMME DELIVERY

The programme starts off with vital assessments and important blood tests. This will be followed by an interactive approach to stress and anger management, education on correct posture and ergonomic practices, critical evaluation of your current diet including a guide to good dietary habits and nutrition, dental health, simple workouts to stay energetic and fit, relaxation techniques, and counselling for better men's health and women's health.

Executives, managers, and team members alike will discover the transformative power of prioritising wellness for the collective success of the entire organisation. Improved focus, enhanced creativity, and strengthened team dynamics are just a few of the rewards awaiting those who embark on this journey!

TARGET AUDIENCE

Corporate staff such as managers, executives, and professionals across all sectors.
